

Jenna Connelly - 9 May 1994 - 21 Dec. 2025

Jenna is lovingly remembered by her parents Katy & Shawn Connelly, younger siblings MJ and Jess, grandparents Muriele Fortin and Dave & Avis Caddell, and numerous aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

Jenna attended Willows Elementary, Lansdowne Middle School, Mount Douglas Secondary School, and the Camosun College electrical program. After becoming a Red Seal electrician, she forged a career as a talented fire protection technician with Viking Fire Protection and Troy Life & Fire Safety, developing and implementing life-safety systems whose protection continues even in her absence.

Jenna's talents and interests were spurred on by her insatiable thirst for knowledge, which led her to great achievements in music, technology, and outdoor exploration.

She sailed and competed with the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, and excelled at competitions in robotics, spelling and musical theatre.

Her passion for performance ingratiated her with the performing arts community, where she rehearsed and performed shows with VOS, Kaleidoscope and Four Seasons Musical Theatre throughout her teens.

Later in life, she enjoyed hiking and camping with her two dogs, scuba diving, and taking part in social activities with her many friends from the People of Victoria discord server.

She is fondly remembered as the inquisitive toddler who set off a fire alarm, the fun-loving child who shot the angel off the tree with her stomp rocket, the precocious teen who 3D-printed her own 3D-printer, the bold diver who conquered the depths of the Salish Sea, and as the welcoming hub of community, care, and support for her many friends.

Please no flowers or cards. In a private family ceremony, Jenna's ashes were placed off the Ogden Point breakwater. Ogden Point holds a special significance to Jenna and her family, as it was one of her favourite spots to dive, and was named after her great (x5) uncle, Peter Skene Ogden. Jenna's family encourages those who knew her to enjoy a walk on the Ogden Point breakwater in her memory.

We are thankful that Jenna's obituary was posted on the MDAA Facebook page by her father, Shawn Connelly.
